

Klaverenhof

Appartement 13

The architectural drawings illustrate the 'Haus der Kulturen der Welt' (HKW) in Berlin. The top section shows a detailed floor plan of Gevel 6, which includes a large hall with a stage and seating, and a smaller room labeled 'Gevel 2'. Below this is a long, low profile of Gevel 4 and Gevel 3. The bottom left shows a small elevation of Gevel 3, and the bottom right shows a larger elevation of Gevel 5, which features a prominent white rectangular volume. The drawings use various hatching and shading to represent different materials and structural elements.
