FACADE PRINCIPALE

enduit ciment

This is a hand-drawn architectural sketch of a building facade, likely for a three-story structure. The drawing is executed in reddish-brown ink on aged, textured paper. The facade is divided into three horizontal levels by dashed lines. The top level features a large window with three vertical panes. The middle level also has a large window with three vertical panes. The bottom level contains two smaller, square windows side-by-side. A vertical line on the right side of the facade suggests a corner or a change in elevation. The text 'enduit ciment' is written in cursive on the left side of the middle level. The overall style is that of a preliminary architectural sketch.
